

A SUGGESTION TO SCIENCE.

The recent LaBlanche-Mitchell contest in San Francisco has brought a rara avis to the front in the shape of Major McLaughlin, of Oroville. He waged considerable money on LaBlanche and then hedged out on Mitchell.

After the fight he directed the stake-holders to pay all the bets he lost on LaBlanche but refused to accept a dollar he had won on Mitchell.

In this age of self interest when so many people clutch at every straw in a sneaking, unmanly dodging of financial responsibilities, the action of Frank McLaughlin stands out as the old saying goes; "like a lily (and a rather long stemmed one) in the mouth of Tartarus."

The APPEAL suggests to the scientists of the Koch school that the corpus of the Major be set apart by Act of Legislature for public uses. Let it be boiled down and converted into lymph for general use all over the country. The person in question weighs about 200 lbs., and ought to furnish lymph enough to inoculate, not only every sporting man in America, but all the state Legislators and a good many of the good-looking business men who have pews in church for Sunday, and short weight scales for week days.

Of course this disposal of the Major's anatomy would be a little rough on him, but only temporarily and also his family, but these are minor considerations, when the public weal is at stake and the gentleman, if he regards his fellow men, ought to be willing to make the sacrifice.

When he knows what is demanded of him we feel certain that he will at least saw off a leg to be used experimentally and under the circumstances we feel warranted in stating, that parties in this City needing any of the lymph can address the Major (or more properly speaking now the Colonel.) THE APPORTIONMENT BILL.

The apportionment bill contains some extraordinary contradictions. Lyon county with less than 2,000 people, gets two assemblymen, Lincoln, with over 2,200 and Lander with over 2,300, get one assemblyman each. Esmeralda with less than 1,800 people, gets two assemblymen.

With these figures comment is unnecessary.

The Prince of Wales is mixed up with a disgracefully card cheating scandal, and the Emperor of Germany is reported three sheets in the wind, but the new Governor of Nevada is all right. He neither drinks nor gambles and goes home early nights. Looks as if some of the rotten monarchies of Europe had better pattern after the staid and respectable old commonwealth of Nevada.

COAST NEWS.

Frank Cady, seventeen years old, was killed at Seattle Monday while coasting.

The scheme to remove the Capital of New Mexico from Santa Fe to Albuquerque has met with defeat in the Legislature.

A son of Mrs. C. H. Wiley of Los Bano, aged ten years, was fatally shot Monday while drawing his gun, muzzle foremost, through a fence.

John Elliott, a Sacramento truck peddler, who started out toward Georgetown two weeks ago is missing, and it is feared he has been murdered.

The petrified remains of a giant have been found in the Bad Lands of Choteau county Mont. One leg is said to be eight feet long, and a rib measured two and a half feet. The Fresno man is a pygmy in comparison.

A wreck has occurred on the Union Pacific Railroad near Cascade, Or. When rounding the curve at a high rate speed the trestle gave way, throwing several passenger coaches and the mail car off the track. No one was killed but several persons were more less injured.
